

International High School Language Immersion Newspaper

Purpose

Ohio State journalism students have joined with Ohio State French and Spanish language students at a Columbus City high school to guide low-income students in the creation of an online school newspaper in three different languages.

Impact

Middle and high school students learned to work together to facilitate news transmission and communication amid students, faculty and parents.

College students learning leadership, mentorship with students in grades 7-12

Adherence to deadlines and enhanced writing skills have enabled newspaper at cnisnews.com to be publishing continually since October.

Ohio State Colleges/Units Involved

Department of French
Department of Spanish
School of Communication

Community Partners Involved

Columbus North International School
Columbus City Schools

Contact

Nicole Kraft
Clinical Assistant Professor
School of Communication
cnisnews.com

THE OHIO STATE
UNIVERSITY

